SAVES ELDERLY PEOPLE FROM KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Sleep Disturbing Bladder Weaknesses, Backache, Stiff Joints, Rheumatic Pains Disappear After Few Doses are Taken.

While people along in years are naturally more subject to weak kidneys, they can avoid the torments of backache, rheumatism, and be saved the annoyance of getting up at night, with disagreeable bladder disorders, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly cures the most severe and obstinate cases.

Croxone quickly and permanently cures these conditions because it moves the cause. It is the most powerful remedy ever devised for ridding the system of uric acid. It is entirely different from all other remedies. It is not like anything else ever used for the purpose. Pills, tablets, and other medicines merely stimulate the kidneys, occasionally giving temporary relief. Croxone makes the kidneys filter the blood and sift out all the poisonous acids and waste matter that cause these troubles. It works right in and cleans out the stopped-up, inactive kidneys like water does a sponge. It dissolves, and drives out every particle of uric acid and other poisonous impurities that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause rheumatism. It neutralizes the uric acid so it no longer irritates the bladder, overcomes unnecessary breaking of sleep and restores the kidneys and bladder to health and strength, permanently and positively curing such troubles.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what else you have used. The very principle of Croxone is such that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. There is nothing else on earth like it. It starts to work the minute you take it and relieves you the first time you use it and all your misery and suffering soon disappear. You can receive an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.—Advertisement.

CANDIDATES AND PLATFORMS.
The estimated and ever hopeful Connelville News, Official Organ of the Young River Democracy, wants to know whether the Republican candidates for Legislature in Fayette county are for or against the "measure" contained in the Republican State Platform.

We question the right and even the propriety of this inquisition, but we have no doubt the Republican legislative candidates are for everything in the Republican State Platform that is consistent with the Republican National Platform.

Few citizens of any political faith are very familiar with the Republican State Platform. It will be remembered that Boss Elmer refused to let it be read to the convention. The platform had been drafted by him, and he indicated that it was sufficient that it pleased him. It was his convention. He had financed it. He was its Angel and its Boss. He cracked his black-whip. The submissive convention adopted the Progressive platform with a whoop. Nobody cared a whoop what was in it and much the same feeling has prevailed ever since.

At best party platforms seldom amount to much because they are in the nature of campaign whoops. They are largely political promises, not political performances. The Republican party is this year standing pat upon the record of its achievements in State and Nation rather than upon promises of experimental legislation doubtful in character and fulfillment.

The Republican legislative candidates of Fayette county stand broadly and firmly upon the interests of Fayette county, and they could not possibly stand on a better platform.

In the meantime, we would respectfully suggest, if cross-examinations are in order, that the Official Organ inquire into the attitude of the Democratic legislative candidates with a view to determining whether they are in fact a Rockwater or Runaway, that is to say whether their inspiration comes from the Statesman of Monticello or the Popocrat of the Platte.

The announcement that horses will be barred from the Halloween parade will be received with great satisfaction by the parents of small children. The little folks have as much fun out of the celebration as anybody and they should be guarded from danger from this source. The authorities should go further and strictly regulate the movement of automobiles and other vehicles on that evening. All such should be restrained in their speed and described in their colors and comings, especially during the parade. Halloween is the People's Night.

The Cumberland matrimonial market is brisk.

The Supreme Court gave those nominations for Auditor General who were made in vain, but perhaps it will transfer after all that some of them were.

Martin Lee has been withdrawn in West Virginia, possibly to give everybody a chance to vote.

With a car famine threatening the railroad, a lady from the Pennsylvania, a coke family depending on the furnace and coal famine during the winter, it does seem that even prospectively some of the lines draw to a close.

There is reason to think that the present talk about fast passenger trains into and out of Connelville on the common winter schedule is recommended with a large percentage of hot air. The run from Connelville to Pittsburgh in one hour and fifteen minutes, or 14 miles per hour, is flouting the rule of Safety First.

Connellville may not be obliged to go outside of the Connelville coke region for a basket ball court.

The Mount Pleasant Cleveland and Scientific Institute may be changed into a training school for foreign children. The Connelville coke region has evidently ceased to be studied, but it remains more than ever interesting. Why not change the Institute into a School of Mines?

The Western Maryland extension to Connelville and its combination here with the Lake Erie is primarily a freight proposition, but both roads are willing to do all the passenger business they can.

In the municipal court of Connelville, a college diploma is no special dispensation for offenses against the peace and dignity of the Embryonic City. Sheepskinners will please note and come prepared to produce from the leather.

Rockwood has been held up until it is getting hard up. What the town needs is a Vigilance Committee.

The Fayette county Poor Directors favor a Workmen's Compensation act. A Mothers' Pension law and Almshouse government by a high joint commission of just two.

The Westmoreland Democrats are killing the fatted calf already.

Cortelyou denies that Elms ever got any sympathy from the Standard Oil crowd. Bill is dead, but there still remains some evidence documentary and otherwise to show that Cortelyou is not the most competent witness on this question.

The biggest part of the Bull Moose campaign in Fayette county is its noise.

The editorial columns of the Official Organ of the Young Democracy betray the analytical judgment of a logical mind and a judicial temperament. It is possible that President Higdon has put his hand to the pen?

PRACTICAL MINING CLASS WILL OPEN MONDAY EVENING

Edward Quinn of Everson
Will Once More be Instructor

IN THE Y. M. C. A. ROOMS

Mining Men of Westmoreland and Fayette Counties Endorse Course
That Has Been a Feature of M. C. A. Work for Years.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTTSDALE, Oct. 18.—The educational work of the Y. M. C. A. is about to open for its fall activities, and in a branch that has made the Scottsdale association a center of interest for men of both counties in the past few years. Incidentally it may have been something of this very thing that caused H. C. Frick, when donations were being solicited last year for the building whose foundations are now going up, to take a share in this project with a contribution of several thousand dollars.

The mining course opens on Monday evening, in the association rooms in the Reid building, at Broadway and Pittsburg streets, where the association have their headquarters until the new building is ready for occupancy. This course has been in operation for several years, and has drawn many mining men from both Westmoreland and Fayette counties to take up the systematic study offered them. All those who know him will be glad to know that Edward Quinn, of Everson, a former member of the Executive Board of the Eleventh Bituminous District, will be the instructor again this year. Mr. Quinn is one of the leading mining men of this locality and has a particular ability as a teacher of this difficult profession. Those interested should communicate with Mr. Quinn or with Secretary J. A. Addison of the Y. M. C. A., for any details regarding the work to be pursued this season.

NAMES EXECUTOR.
Hiram Ceter, who died at his home near Hensington, a few days ago, named Benjamin W. Carmichael, to whom his estate is left, as his executor by the conditions of the will probated at Greensburg.

SELLING PAPER.
A Pittsburgh man who comes here about every three months, was in town yesterday gathering up a carload of waste paper. The waste paper is saved in town in big bundles for this dealer, and nearly a carload was shipped away today.

FRONT LINE SCHOOLS.
The Sunday schools of Scottsdale have obtained the front line recognition in the Westmoreland County Sunday School Association. This school is the Methodist Episcopal and the Christian Sunday schools. Both regulars must be met to obtain this recognition. School representatives at the county convention, pledge made and paid to the county work during the year, students of school given when called for, school open, school, cradle roll, graded lessons used, Home Department, teachers' training class making at least one examination during the year, approved by the State association, at least one adult organized Bible class, holding the International certificate, State recognition.

RAN OF POLICE.
The run of the police has been placed heavily upon the rough and tumble play of a number of young fellows, who have been in the habit, it is said, of making the streets and sidewalks a place for practicing football tactics. These scoundrels have gone on along the sidewalks along Pittsburg street and there have been a number of complaints lodged, particularly by women who are rolling along and who have narrowly escaped being knocked down by the raging youngsters. Thursday evening a group of young fellows engaged in a scrimmage on the sidewalk nearly drove one of their number head first into the show window of C. M. Jarrett's store, and as it was he landed heavily against a hot peanut vending machine with his head and his hand smashed what. Police officer Harry Faith was passing and advised the boys to desist from any further play along that line.

BARRING HUNTERS.
W. J. Powers of near Duwau, was in town yesterday and said that the Farmers' Protective Association of Lower Tyrone and Perry townships have organized for the year and will again bar anyone from trespassing or hunting on their premises. Mr. Powers is the President and J. H. Lambinger the Secretary of the association. One Huntington township farmer organized a similar association this year.

TO MASONRY.
Mrs. J. R. Smith has been at Williamsport for a few days as a delegate to the State convention of the Federated Women's Clubs, representing the Saturday Afternoon Club of Scottsdale and Mt. Pleasant.

TO MASONRY.
Clarence Love left yesterday for Masonry, where he has taken a position with the H. C. Frick Coke Company.

STOMACH GONE BAD, SOUR, GASSY, UPSET?

When "Pape's Diapepsin" Gets in Stomach All Indigestion Goes.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain remedy in the whole world and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know now it is needless to have a bad stomach.

Please, for your sake, get a tiny cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. It should be kept handy, should one of the family eat something which doesn't agree with them or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night it is there to give the quickest, surest relief known.—Advertisement.

BUSINESS RUSHES CAR TRACER

Functions of One of Railroad's Busiest Employees are Described.

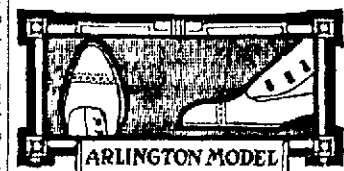

Men who handle the freight cars in and out of the yards and are busily to prevent shortages and keep within the requirements are not the only busy folks. Just now the car tracers are having their troubles and are on the jump in the search for cars which have not away from their districts.

Car tracers do not get into the limelight very frequently; in fact this class of railroad men are seldom heard from except around the railroad yards and offices. One may ask the question a hundred times, "what is a car tracer?" and nine out of ten persons will not be able to answer the question correctly.

The functions of the car tracer are described exactly by his title. He must locate, effect the return to their own rails of lost cars, and as may be inferred when it is known that there are approximately 200,000 miles of line in the United States, and probably a third as much more across the borders in Canada and Mexico on which interchanges of traffic is constant, it will be apparent that the tracer's job is no sinecure. Moreover, he must make good or he is replaced immediately, since the chief asset of every railroad is its freight cars.

200 Exclusive and Distinctive Picture Hats $7.50 and $12.50

All the adjectives and superlatives have been used so often and so carelessly that to say that the showing is the finest and the best really means very little.

And yet we do wish that every woman that has set her mind on spending $5.00 and $20.00 for her hat could be persuaded to see these at $7.50 and $12.50 before she buys.

For example—Hatters plush, and softness, these hats are worth double their prices.

As regards to styles, shapes and trimmings are being featured by the most exclusive milliners as the last word of fashion and you will find them here in plenty among these.

We will not attempt to describe the beauty of these 200 Picture Hats as it will take more than an entire newspaper, but will ask you to come in tomorrow and let us show you the splendid hats. Watch our windows.

Special Showing of Hats at $1.90.

A very stunning lot of Hats we ever offered at that price. In every one you will notice a distinctiveness of style, a smartness, which you would never expect to buy under $5.00. Some are trimmed with ribbon, some with wings, others with stickups.

THE NATURAL GAS SUPPLY IS GETTING VERY UNCERTAIN

The Falling Fields in Ohio and Indiana Put End to Further Investment.

PENNSYLVANIA A BIG PRODUCER

Its Wells Yield 154,475 Million Cubic Feet, Two-Thirds of Which is Consumed by Its Manufacturing Establishments Despite Cheap Coal.

Value of the natural gas produced in this country for 1911 was $74,000,000. While there was a decrease in quantity from the output of 1910, the figures for the two years being 509,155 million and 503,353 million cubic feet, the value of the production in 1911 was nearly four million dollars greater than that of 1910, a gain of 4.75 per cent. The increase in demand for natural gas from consumers of all kinds, according to David T. Day, of the United States Geological Survey, in a report on the production of natural gas in 1911, just published by the Survey, makes the supply of gas a matter of growing seriousness. Beyond question the natural gas that can be furnished in many of the fields of the United States is simply a function of the capital invested in natural gas lines, and especially in power plants for pumping the gas. But the safety of such large investments decreases in proportion as the unmet demand becomes directly a factor of the supply.

In Ohio and Indiana the yield has diminished so rapidly as to stop the investment of the further capital necessary to increase production. One important feature bearing on the production of natural gas during 1911 was the excessive demand for it in Kansas City, Mo. This caused a board of public utilities to create a commission headed by Eugene H. North, State Geologist of Kansas, to investigate the probable duration of the supply of gas to Kansas City. In his report Mr. North expressed the opinion that the supply of gas was sufficient for the needs of the city is not possible for longer than three or four years.

Pennsylvania was the greatest consumer of natural gas in 1911, with an output of 154,475 million cubic feet. Ohio was second, with 112,121 million cubic feet, West Virginia was third, with 90,868 million cubic feet, and Kansas fourth, with 77,561 million cubic feet. The total output of the United States for 1911 was 509,155 million cubic feet. The total number of productive wells in the United States in that year was 28,125.

During the last three years the application of the more advanced methods of gas production from oil wells has become a profitable industry of increasing importance. The industry did not progress as rapidly in 1911 as in the two preceding years. It will eventually become a method of producing gas for millions of cubic feet of gas that is now wasted in "leakage" or is converted into gasolene. The United States Geological Survey last year attempted to compile figures of production of gasolene from natural gas, but many plants were operated illegally, and no records were kept of the output. Statements from such sources could only be estimated. However, the method of manufacture, a report of the quantity of gasolene produced shows an output in 1911 of 7,215,129 gallons with an estimated value of $121,791.

A copy of the report may be obtained free on application to the Director of the Geological Survey, Washington.

COKE MACHINES AT HOSTETTER

Frick Company Installs Apparatus at Many Plants in Region.

The H. C. Frick Coke Company has a force of workmen making the necessary changes in the oven fronts at Hostetter plant to install coke pulling machinery.

Secretly of good, reliable laborers has resulted in the company placing drawing machines at many of the big works. The changes are widening the oven doors and the new system will be in operation at the plant in a few days.

One machine will draw and load the product from 24 to 26 ovens daily. Four men operating this piece of mechanism will do the work which is equivalent to 25 laborers.

The Frick company use the machines at a number of the big plants and they are rapidly installing the new system.

Buy Coal Land on P. & L. E. Coal in Hostetter township, Westmoreland county, and in Washington and Fayette counties, has been purchased by J. H. Hillman, Jr., and associates, of Pittsburgh, for about $35,000 from Holmes Davis. The coal is of the Spruce Run branch of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and is of the Pittsburgh seam.

An Autumn Trip to Europe. After the summer rush of ocean travel in 1911, is most delightful, and you have better choice of accommodations. The Foreign Department of the First National Bank of Connellsville is direct agent for all steamship lines. Passage booked and cabins and berths reserved. All languages spoken.—Adv.

Copyright, 1911, by Thomas Dixon

When Stuart appeared the next morning a roar of rage swept the crowd. Howls, cries, catcalls, hisses, hoots and yells were hurled into his face. It was a new experience in Stuart's life. He flushed red, stood for a moment wavering the mob with growing anger and lifted his hand for silence.

The answer was a storm of hisses. Apparently he didn't intend to say anything. He drew his heavy brows down over his eyes and the square jaws ground together with silent determination. With a sudden impulse he threw his right hand high above his head and his voice boomed over the crowd in a peal of command. The effect was electric. A painful hush followed.

"Gentlemen!"

He paused and his next words were spoken in intense silence.

"My answer to the extraordinary greeting you have given me this morning is simple. I am not working for your approval. I work for my own approval, because I must in obedience to the call within me. Long ago in my life I gave up ambition and ceased to ask anything for myself. You cannot destroy my career because I cherish mine. The scene you are enacting here this morning is a disgrace to humanity. You have surrendered to the unmeaning fear that drives a herd of swine over a precipice. You have, by an act of will, joined in a movement to paralyze the motive power of the world—faith! There is but one thing that runs this earth of ours for a single day—faith in one another.

"You are scrambling here for a few dollars in this bank. What can you do with it when you draw it out? There is not enough cash in the world to transact a single day's business. Business is run on credit—faith. The business of a bank is to keep money moving and make it do the world's work. You are attempting to stop the work by the destruction of the faith."

Suddenly a man who had quietly slipped on the step before the speaker and thrust a revolver into his face.

A cry of horror swept the crowd as Stuart paused, turned pale and looked steadily down the flashing barrel into the madman's eyes.

"Who started this work of destruction?" the man cried. "You—you—do you hear me? And I've been commended by the Amity to end this trouble by ending you."

As Stuart held the glittering eyes, jeweled at his across the blue black barrel he could see the man's nervous and uncertain finger twitching at the trigger. With a sudden panther-like spring he leaped across the five feet which separated him from the man who held the revolver. His left hand gripped the weapon and threw it into the air as it was fired, while his right hand closed on the throat of his assailant.

With his knee against the man's breast he hurled him down the steps, wrenching the revolver from his hand and with a single blow knocked him into insensibility.

The spell was broken. The mob that hated him saw their chance. A yell of rage swept them, and a dozen men sprang toward him with curses. For a moment he held his own, when suddenly a well directed blow from behind knocked him down. In blind fury he felt the smash of blows on his face and head. A stream of blood was trickling down his forehead and its salty taste penetrated his mouth.

A sudden crash from above seemed to send the world into a mass of flaming splinters and the light faded. He heard the soft rustle of silk and felt the pressure of a woman's lips on his. Surely he must be dead, was the first thought that flashed through his mind. And then from somewhere far away in space came Nan's voice low and tense:

"Come back, Jim, dear, I've something to tell you. You can't die, you shall not die until I've told you."

He opened his eyes and found Nan bending over him. His hand rested on her soft arm, and his head lay pillowed on her breast.

"Why, Nan, it's you! What's happened? What on earth are you doing here?"

He looked about the room and saw that he was in the inner office of the president of the bank, alone with Bivens' wife. He was lying on the big leather couch.

"I heard that you were going to speak this morning. I wanted to hear you and came. I arrived just as you began and managed to get into the bank. I saw that man try to kill you, Jim, and that crowd of wild beasts trampling you to death. Two detectives pulled you out and dragged you into the bank."

A doctor entered and quickly dressed Stuart's wounds, and turned to Nan.

"He'll be all right in a week or so. Mrs. Bivens provided he doesn't balk on breaking the run on another bank by the spell of his eloquence. I hope you can persuade him not to try that again."

"I think I'm fully persuaded, doctor," Stuart answered grimly. "I've seen a great light today."

When the doctor had gone and Nan was left alone with Stuart an embarrassed silence fell between them.

She was quickly wondering if he were fully unconscious when she was sobbing and saying some very foolish things. Above all, she was wondering whether he knew that she had kissed him.

When her car stopped at South Washington square and Stuart undisturbed on scrambling out alone, she held his hand tight a moment and spoke with trembling earnestness:

"You will see me now, Jim, and be friends?"

He answered promptly.

"Yes, Nan, I will. The world is never going to be quite the same place for me after today. There was one moment this morning in which I think I lived a thousand years."

A faint flush stole over the woman's beautiful face as she looked steadily into his eyes and quietly asked:

"What moment was that?"

"The moment I looked down that gun barrel, saw the stupid idiot in that fool's eyes and felt the throb of the insane desire to kill in the people behind him, the people for whom I've been staving my life a joyous sacrifice."

Nan smiled a sight of relief.

"Oh, I see. Well, you've made me very happy with your promise. I know you will keep your word."

She pressed her hand firmly.

"You are more beautiful than ever, Nan. Yes, I'll keep my word. Goodbye until I call!"

And the woman smiled in triumph.

CHAPTER XI.

The Lamp of Aladdin.

THE clouds of the panic slowly lifted and the sun began to shine. A fortress officer of the law had struck a blow for justice that marked the beginning of a new era of national life. Slowly but surely the prices of stocks began to mount.

Incidentally a corner in wheat was suddenly developed, and the price of bread rose 20 per cent. Bivens was found to be the mysterious power behind the deal, and before the old financial forces to crush him he closed out his holdings at a profit of five millions.

The little financier awoke next morning to find himself the most famous man in America. His picture now appeared everywhere and all sorts of writers began to weave marvelous stories of his achievements.

Nan was insisting again that he make Bivens an offer to become his associate in business.

"I'm sure he will consider you after now."

Bivens looked at her a moment curiously and she turned her eyes away.

"Why do you think he has changed his attitude toward me?"

"From something he said. That mob has written a question mark before his little head."

"By George?" he exclaimed, his black eyes sparkling. "It may be possible."

"You'll try?" Nan asked eagerly.

"I'll not try—I'll do it."

"I've an enemy somewhere among the fallen," Bivens went on musingly. "who is dying hard. In spite of the fact that I have unlimited resources, this man is constantly circulating reports about the soundness of my finances. He uses the telephone principally and he has started two runs on my bank within the past month. Another is pending. I'm going to ask Jim to preside over an investigation of my resources in the presence of a dozen newspaper reporters."

Nan stooped and kissed him.

When Stuart reached Bivens' new office in Wall street he was amazed at the size and magnificence. The first impression was one of dazzling splendor. The huge reception hall was trimmed from floor to dome in oyster and gold.

Stuart nodded to a group of reporters waiting for the chance of a word with the great man. "Looks like a full house, doesn't it?" he said.

"They've been here for hours," said a reporter. "There are a senator, three members of the house of representatives, an ambassador, the governor of a Chinese province, a Japanese prince and a dozen big politicians from as many states, to say nothing of the small fry."

"Well, I have an appointment with Mr. Bivens at this hour."

"Really?" the reporter gasped. "Then for heaven's sake give me a chance at you five minutes before the other fellows. Remember now, I saw you first!"

He was still pleading when Stuart smilingly drew away and followed one of Bivens' secretaries.

Bivens came forward to greet him with outstretched hands.

"I needn't say I am glad to see you, Jim. How do you like my new quarters?"

"Absolutely stunning. I had no idea you cultivated such ceremonial splendor in your business."

"Yes, I like it," the financier admitted thoughtfully. "I don't mind confessing to you on the way that it was Nan's idea at first, but I took it like a duck to water."

In spite of Stuart's contempt for the mere possession of money, in spite of his traditional contempt for Bivens' antecedents, character and business methods, he found himself unconsciously paying homage to the power the little, dark, swarthy figure today incarnated.

Bivens had become more difficult of approach and carried himself with quiet, conscious pride.

Stuart was scarcely prepared for the hearty, old fashioned cordial way in which he went about the business for which he had asked him to come.

"Now, Jim, this is your day; those fellows out there in the reception hall can wait. You and I must have the thing out—man to man, heart to heart. You can talk plainly and I'll answer squarely."

"I've got a proposition to make to you, so big you've got to hear it, so big you can't get away from it, because you're not a fool. You're a man of genius. There is no height to which you cannot climb when once your feet are on the ladder. And I'm going to put them there."

"The assurance in Bivens' voice and the contagious enthusiasm with which he spoke impressed Stuart."

Bivens was quick to recognize it and strike at once.

"Before I present my plans I want to show you that I can make good my word. I have caused these reporters to be sent here today for the purpose of giving the widest publicity to the facts about my fortune. Another run has been planned tomorrow on one of my banks. I have placed my money and securities in the next room, so arranged that you can verify my statements, and at the proper moment I shall ask these reporters into the place and let them see with their own eyes. There can be no more rumors in it, so about my financial status. Come in here."

Bivens led the way into the room beyond, which was the meeting place of the directors of his many corporations.

HOW TO RESIST

Chronic Coughs and Colds. Strong vigorous men and women hardly ever catch cold; its only when the system is run down and vitality low that colds and coughs get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way to cure a cough is to build up your run down condition again?

Mrs. Olivia Parham of First, Duane, N. C., says: "I took Vinol for a chronic cough which had lasted two years and the cough not only disappeared, but it built up my strength as well."

The reason Vinol is so effective in such cases is because it contains in a delicious concentrated form all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood building iron added.

Chronic coughs and colds yield to Vinol because it builds up the weakened, run-down system.

You can get your money back any time if Vinol does not do all we say. Graham & Company, druggists, Connelville, Pa. Vinol is sold in West Side by Fred H. Harmering.

Risk Farm Loses Somerset Case. SOMERSET, Oct. 18.—Judge Russell, yesterday, handed down an opinion in the case of the Somerset Coal & Columbian Company against the Exchange Mutual Life Insurance Company, in which he directed that judgment be entered for the plaintiff, notwithstanding the adverse verdict of the jury. The plaintiff's plant, near this town, was burned September, 1910, and, following the receipt of the insurance company to pay the full amount of the policy, suit was instituted to recover $1,500. The case was tried in February, 1912, when a jury awarded the plaintiff $275.

Want Feet That Never Hurt You?

25 Cent Jar of EZO for the Feet Banishes All Misery.

George Umaltus, Latrobe, Pa., spent $700 for foot remedies. Hadn't stood on his feet for years, one jar of EZO and he ran and jumped like a boy.

Pretty strong talk; but it's true, and if you suffer from tired, sore, weary aching, burning feet or corns, EZO is the only remedy that will cure you. The producers, the Pacific Foot Company are known throughout the country as one of our most reliable firms and the play has achieved so much success since its original production that one is practically paying for a sure thing. ### THE SOISSON.

"THE NIGHT RIDER."
The young district attorney, Ben Stevens, in "The Night Rider," two sensational political play which will be seen here on Saturday, October 19, matinee and night at the Solson theatre. Is a man who has the courage of his convictions. He has entered the political arena in order to rid the country of the corruption instigated by an organized band of night riders, a band of men of wealth and education, and who have not hesitated to buy up judges and jurists so that they manage to escape the punishment which would otherwise befall them.

When the play opens we find young Ben Stevens, a candidate for the office of district attorney, with the powerful opposition of the night rider faction arrayed against him. We also find him as the accepted auditor for the fund of the young and beautiful daughter of Judge Andrews, a man in the pay of the notorious night rider gang, which is determined to control the entire tobacco crop.

According to their standard of morals it is deemed expedient to bribe the young candidate so that if he succeeded in being elected he would become another tool for the night rider machine. This is attempted with an offer of $50,000 in cash and the hand of the Judge's daughter, young Stevens' sweetheart, otherwise her father's failure to sanction the marriage and his financial ruin are threatened as the price of his disobedience to the dictates of corrupt party politics.

The story of how he marries the girl of his choice in spite of opposition, rivals bribery, and triumphs ultimately over the night riders makes the character of Stevens one of the most interesting and inspiring seen on the American stage in the past decade.

NEW PLAYS ARE PRACTISED BY THE HIGH SCHOOL SQUAD

Coach Smith Selects Two Backfields to Alternate in Lettrobeg Game Tomorrow.

New plays, planned earlier in the week, were practiced at Fayette Field, yesterday afternoon, in a sharp half-hour scrimmage between the "varsity" and the second team, in which the former hold the scrubs to three touchdowns. Coach Smith took extra precautions to strengthen his team. Two complete backfields have been designated and they will be alternated, if necessary, in tomorrow's game with Lettrobeg. Jones and Miller at full back and Smith at fullback; the other, McPartland and Fennell at half back and Rhodes at fullback. One of the best games of the season, on the local grounds, is expected for tomorrow. E. T. Barr, of Lettrobeg, upon his return yesterday, said the team this year was as strong as last. The lineup practiced yesterday was: Lettrobeg, Lettrobeg presented Greensburg from scratch in the first three quarters but the Greensburg eleven plowed through the line for a touchdown in the final stage of the game.

"The game will be called at 3.15," "tube" Horvick will be referee and Buttermore umpire.

Quakers Deny Giants' Pennant. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Not until November 25 will the baseball world learn how the Giants managed to squeeze through with their 1912 pennant. Horace Fogel, president of the Philadelphia club, who is reported to have said that the umpires who officiated at the world's series had an undue influence in determining how the games were won, will be heard by the National league managers on that date. Fogel will have to substantiate his charges or suffer expulsion from the league.

Chicago Americans Win Game. CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Chick Mattick, of the Chicago American League team, yesterday kept his club in the running for the city championship by driving out a triple with the bases full in the ninth inning. When he scored a moment later on an out he brought defeat to the local National Leaguers by a score of 3 to 5.

Pirates Win at Johnstown. JOHNSTOWN, Oct. 18.—Pittsburgh's barnstorming Buccaneers defeated the Moose nine in an exhibition game here yesterday, 13 to 3. Over 1,000 people witnessed the game. The local amateurs held the Pirates well in hand for five innings before going up in the air.

Are the Fly and Mosquito Dangerous?

The Fly, with spunky feet, collects the invisible germs of disease, spreads them over our food and poisons us with typhoid and cholera. The mosquito with its bite injects into our veins malaria and yellow fever. The bacteria of consumption, or grip, are everywhere present for us to breathe into our lungs. The blood which flows through our veins and arteries is our protection. It should contain healthy red and white blood corpuscles—capable of warding off these disease germs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and alternative made entirely without alcohol, a pure glyceric extract of bloodroot, golden seal, Oregon grape root, queen's root, mandarin and stone root, which has enjoyed a good reputation for over forty years. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fire of the body burns brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

M. MADON, Engr.

"About forty years ago while in Newark, New Jersey, I had chills and fever," writes Mr. MICHAEL MADON, of National Military Home, Kansas. "I went to Kansas City and in the spring of 1871 the chills and fever returned. Doctors and everything I tried failed to do me good. Finally I saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advertised. I took one bottle of it and the chills vanished. In about a year afterward I felt strong coming back so I got another bottle and have never had any symptoms of fever or chills since. That is all of twenty years ago, for I had no chills about twelve years before I started to take 'Golden Medical Discovery'."
